The following grade components will be given for this class during the semester:

Class Participation	10%
Readings and Analyses	30%
Quizzes	10%
In-class Summaries	15%
Final Analysis Paper	35%

* Readings and Analyses includes remedial assignments, response readings, and analytical assignments.

Policies for Attendance, excused absences, make-up exams, late assignments, early final exams, cell phones, etc.

Attendance is MANDATORY. Any unexcused absences will result in the reduction of the student's final grade as determined by the instructor. Due to the collaborative nature of the classroom-learning environment, unexcused tardies may be treated as an absence per individual case.

Late assignments are not accepted. If you are absent, you must turn in the assignment that is due upon returning to class.

Toward the end of the semester, you will complete a final analytical project. This project will include a complete score analysis as well as a written paper.

Prohibit all use of AI tools

AI writing tools (such as ChatGPT) are not permitted for any stage or phase of work in this class. If you use these tools, your actions will be considered a violation of the University's academic misconduct policy and may lead to disciplinary procedures. If you'd like assistance with your writing, you are encouraged to (1) visit TAMUK's Writing Center, (2) use Grammarly's basic editing features, or (3) meet with me for additional help.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT TESTING POLICIES

It is departmental and university policy that all tests be administered in a fair and equitable manner. Students are expected and required to follow testing procedures and policies in an atmosphere of honesty and truthfulness. The following policies have been adopted by the Music Department and are required procedures for exams and tests:

1. Students will not cheat or plagiarize on any exam, assignment, or project. Cheating, in any of its forms, is defined in the TAMUK Student Handbook and will not be tolerated under any circumstance. Consequences of cheating, plagiarism, and dishonesty are listed in the TAMUK Student Handbook.
2. Students are not to display or utilize cell phones, PDAs, computers, study sheets or any other devices or resources during a test or exam unless expressly permitted by the instructor. Use of any of these devices or materials during an exam will constitute an act of cheating.
3. Students are not to leave the classroom during an exam unless there is an emergency. If a student chooses to leave the classroom during an exam, they must forfeit their exam and may not continue to take the exam upon their return to class.

4. Any attempt to communicate verbally or non-verbally with another student during an exam will be construed as an act of cheating.
5. At the discretion of the instructor, students who are late for an exam may not be allowed to take the exam.
6. Students must follow any other testing policies or procedures as implemented and directed by the instructor. Failure to do so may be construed as an act of cheating.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT CELL PHONE POLICY

Cell phones and other electronic devices may not be used or displayed in a classroom, rehearsal, recital, concert or other academic or musical event. A faculty member may ask the student to leave the classroom or venue until the conclusion of the class, rehearsal, or concert if the student is found in violation of this policy.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT VIDEO/AUDIO RECORDING POLICIES

Any type of video or audio recording, including AI-assisted notetaking, is strictly forbidden without the express written consent of the classroom instructor(s). Distribution of any recorded material is considered a violation of copyrighted material and will be dealt with to the full extent of the law.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

Six Drop Policy

The following provision does not apply to students with Texas public college or university credits prior to Fall 2007. The Texas Senate Bill 1231 specifies the number of course drops allowed to a student without penalty. After a student has dropped six courses, a grade of QF will normally be recorded for each subsequent drop. Additional information on Senate Bill 1231 is available at the Registrar's Office at (361) 593-2811 and at Academic Procedure: Drop Policy.

Students with Disabilities

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodations of their disability. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) as early as possible in the term at (361) 593-3024. DRC is located in the Student Health and Wellness building at 1210 N. Retama St.

Classroom Conduct Expectations

Students are referred to the Student Code of Conduct section of the Student Handbook. Students are expected to assume individual responsibility for maintaining a productive learning environment and conduct themselves with the highest regard for response and consideration of others. Ongoing or single behaviors considered distracting will be addressed by the faculty member initially, but if the behavior becomes excessive and the student refuses to respond to the faculty member's efforts, the issue will be referred to the Dean of Students. In the case of serious disruptive behavior in a classroom, the instructor will first request compliance from the student and if the student fails to comply, the instructor has the authority to ask the student to leave the classroom. The student is expected to comply with the instructor's request and may subsequently contest this action using procedures established by the department. If the student fails to leave after being directed to do so, assistance may be obtained from other university personnel, including the University Police Department. The incident shall be handled as an academic misconduct matter using established departmental procedures for academic misconduct to determine if the student should be allowed to return to the classroom.

Academic Misconduct

Students are expected to adhere to the highest academic standards of behavior and personal conduct in this course and all other courses. Students who engage in academic misconduct are subject to University disciplinary procedures. Students are expected to be familiar with the current Student Handbook, especially the section on academic misconduct, which discusses conduct expectations and academic dishonesty rules.

Academic dishonesty includes but is not limited to:

1. Cheating: deception in which the student misrepresents that he/she has mastered information on an academic exercise that he/she has not mastered; giving or receiving aid unauthorized by the professor on assignments or examinations.
2. Aid of academic dishonesty: Intentionally facilitating any act of academic dishonesty. Tampering with grades or taking part in obtaining or distributing any part of a scheduled test.
3. Fabrication: use of invented information or falsified research.
4. Plagiarism: unacknowledged quotation, and/or paraphrase of someone else's work, ideas, or data as one's own in work submitted for credit. Failure to identify information or essays from the internet and submitting them as one's own work also constitutes plagiarism. Please be aware that the University subscribes to the Turnitin plagiarism detection service. Your paper may be submitted to this service at the discretion of the instructor.
5. Lying: deliberate falsification with the intent to deceive in written or verbal form as it applies to an academic submission.
6. Bribery: providing, offering or taking rewards in exchange for a grade, an assignment, or the aid of academic dishonesty.
7. Threat: an attempt to intimidate a student, staff or faculty member for the purpose of receiving an unearned grade or in an effort to prevent reporting of an Honor Code violation.

Other forms of academic misconduct included but are not limited to:

1. Failure to follow published departmental guidelines, professor's syllabi, and other posted academic policies in place for the orderly and efficient instruction of classes, including laboratories, and use of academic resource or equipment.
2. Unauthorized possession of examinations, reserved library materials, laboratory materials or other course related materials.
3. Failure to follow the instructor or proctor's test-taking instructions, including but not limited to not setting aside notes, books or study guides while the test is in progress, failing to sit in designated locations and/or leaving the classroom/test site without permission during a test.
4. Prevention of the convening, continuation or orderly conduct of any class, lab or class activity. Engaging in conduct that interferes with or disrupts university teaching, research or class activities such as making loud and distracting noises, repeatedly answering cell phones/text messaging or allowing pagers to beep, exhibiting erratic or irrational behavior, persisting in speaking without being recognized, repeatedly leaving and entering the classroom or test site without authorization, and making physical threats or verbal insults to the faculty member, or other students and staff.
5. Falsification of student transcript or other academic records; or unauthorized access to academic computer records.
6. Nondisclosure or misrepresentation in filling out applications of other university records.
7. Any action which may be deemed as unprofessional or inappropriate in the professional community of the discipline being studied.

Harassment/Discrimination

Texas A&M University-Kingsville does not tolerate discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identify or sexual orientation (or any other illegal basis) and investigative processes are available for any reports that indicate sexual harassment, sex-based misconduct, harassment, or discrimination may have occurred by a respondent that has enrolled at or is employed with the university. Sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking based on sex are types of sex discrimination. Such sexual misconduct is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Any member of the university community violating this policy will be subject to disciplinary action. A person who believes they have been the victim of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking based on sex or unlawful discrimination of a protected class may pursue either the informal or the formal complaint resolution processes. Reports may be initiated with the Office of Compliance at (361) 593-4758, with the complainant's immediate supervisor, a department head, a supervisory employee, any faculty or staff, or the Dean of Students at (361) 593-3606. Regardless of who the incident is reported to, the Compliance Office will be notified of the report so that they can reach out to the complainant to discuss supportive measures and administrative processes that may be available.

Please note, all faculty and staff are mandated reporters, except for counselors at Student Health and Wellness. Counselors at Student Health and Wellness are confidential reporters and will not disclose any identifiable information regarding an incident that is made known to them. However, they may be able to provide information on where supportive measures can be obtained and administrative processes initiated. A mandated reporter (any faculty and staff) is required to report any incident that is made known to them, while they are working within their job description, to the Office of Compliance, Lewis Hall, Suite 130, 361-593-4758, titleix@tamuk.edu. This includes incidents that have occurred on or off-campus. For those who wish to remain anonymous and are not reporting a mandated report, anonymous reporting is available at <https://secure.ethicspoint.com/domain/media/en/gui/19681/index.html>.

Pregnant and Parenting Students

Texas A&M University-Kingsville does not tolerate discrimination of pregnant or parenting students. Students who are pregnant or parenting may not be denied access to any program or activity on the basis of their pregnant or parenting status. Any pregnant students, or student planning on becoming pregnant, should consult their health care provider to determine what, if any, accommodations are needed, based on their individual situation. Temporary leave for pregnant or parenting students due to medical necessity may also be available. It is the responsibility of the student to communicate their needs to the faculty member or Office of Compliance as soon as possible in order for risk-reduction to be assessed and to determine if additional modifications for the course are necessary. While the university cannot mandate the disclosure of a student's status as pregnant or parenting, the university strongly recommends that students do provide notification, so appropriate steps can be taken to ensure the health of both the parent and child. To communicate health circumstances or to request additional information (accommodations, leave, lactation rooms, pregnancy parking permits, etc.), the following individuals may be contacted:

Pregnant Students:

Tasha Clark, Office of Compliance, Lewis Hall, Suite 130, 361-593-4758, TitleIX@tamuk.edu

Parenting Students:

Kirsten Compary, Office of the Dean of Students, MSUB, RM 306, 361-593-3606,
